School Life

As we entered our centennial year the thought of the school being 100 years old did not escape our minds.

New students, as well as returning ones, were well aware of the traditions and past history of the school. Along with enjoying events of the day, we knew that we were making history as we started the second 100 years.

Which one is the snowman?

Showing his ability, Dave Lind exhibits his penmanship.

Dedication

We the Class of 1978 dedicate this edition of the Cadet to a man who has made us work up to our potential. He has always helped us with a tremendous amount of understanding and has persevered in teaching us with all of his heart. He is demanding; but above all, kind.

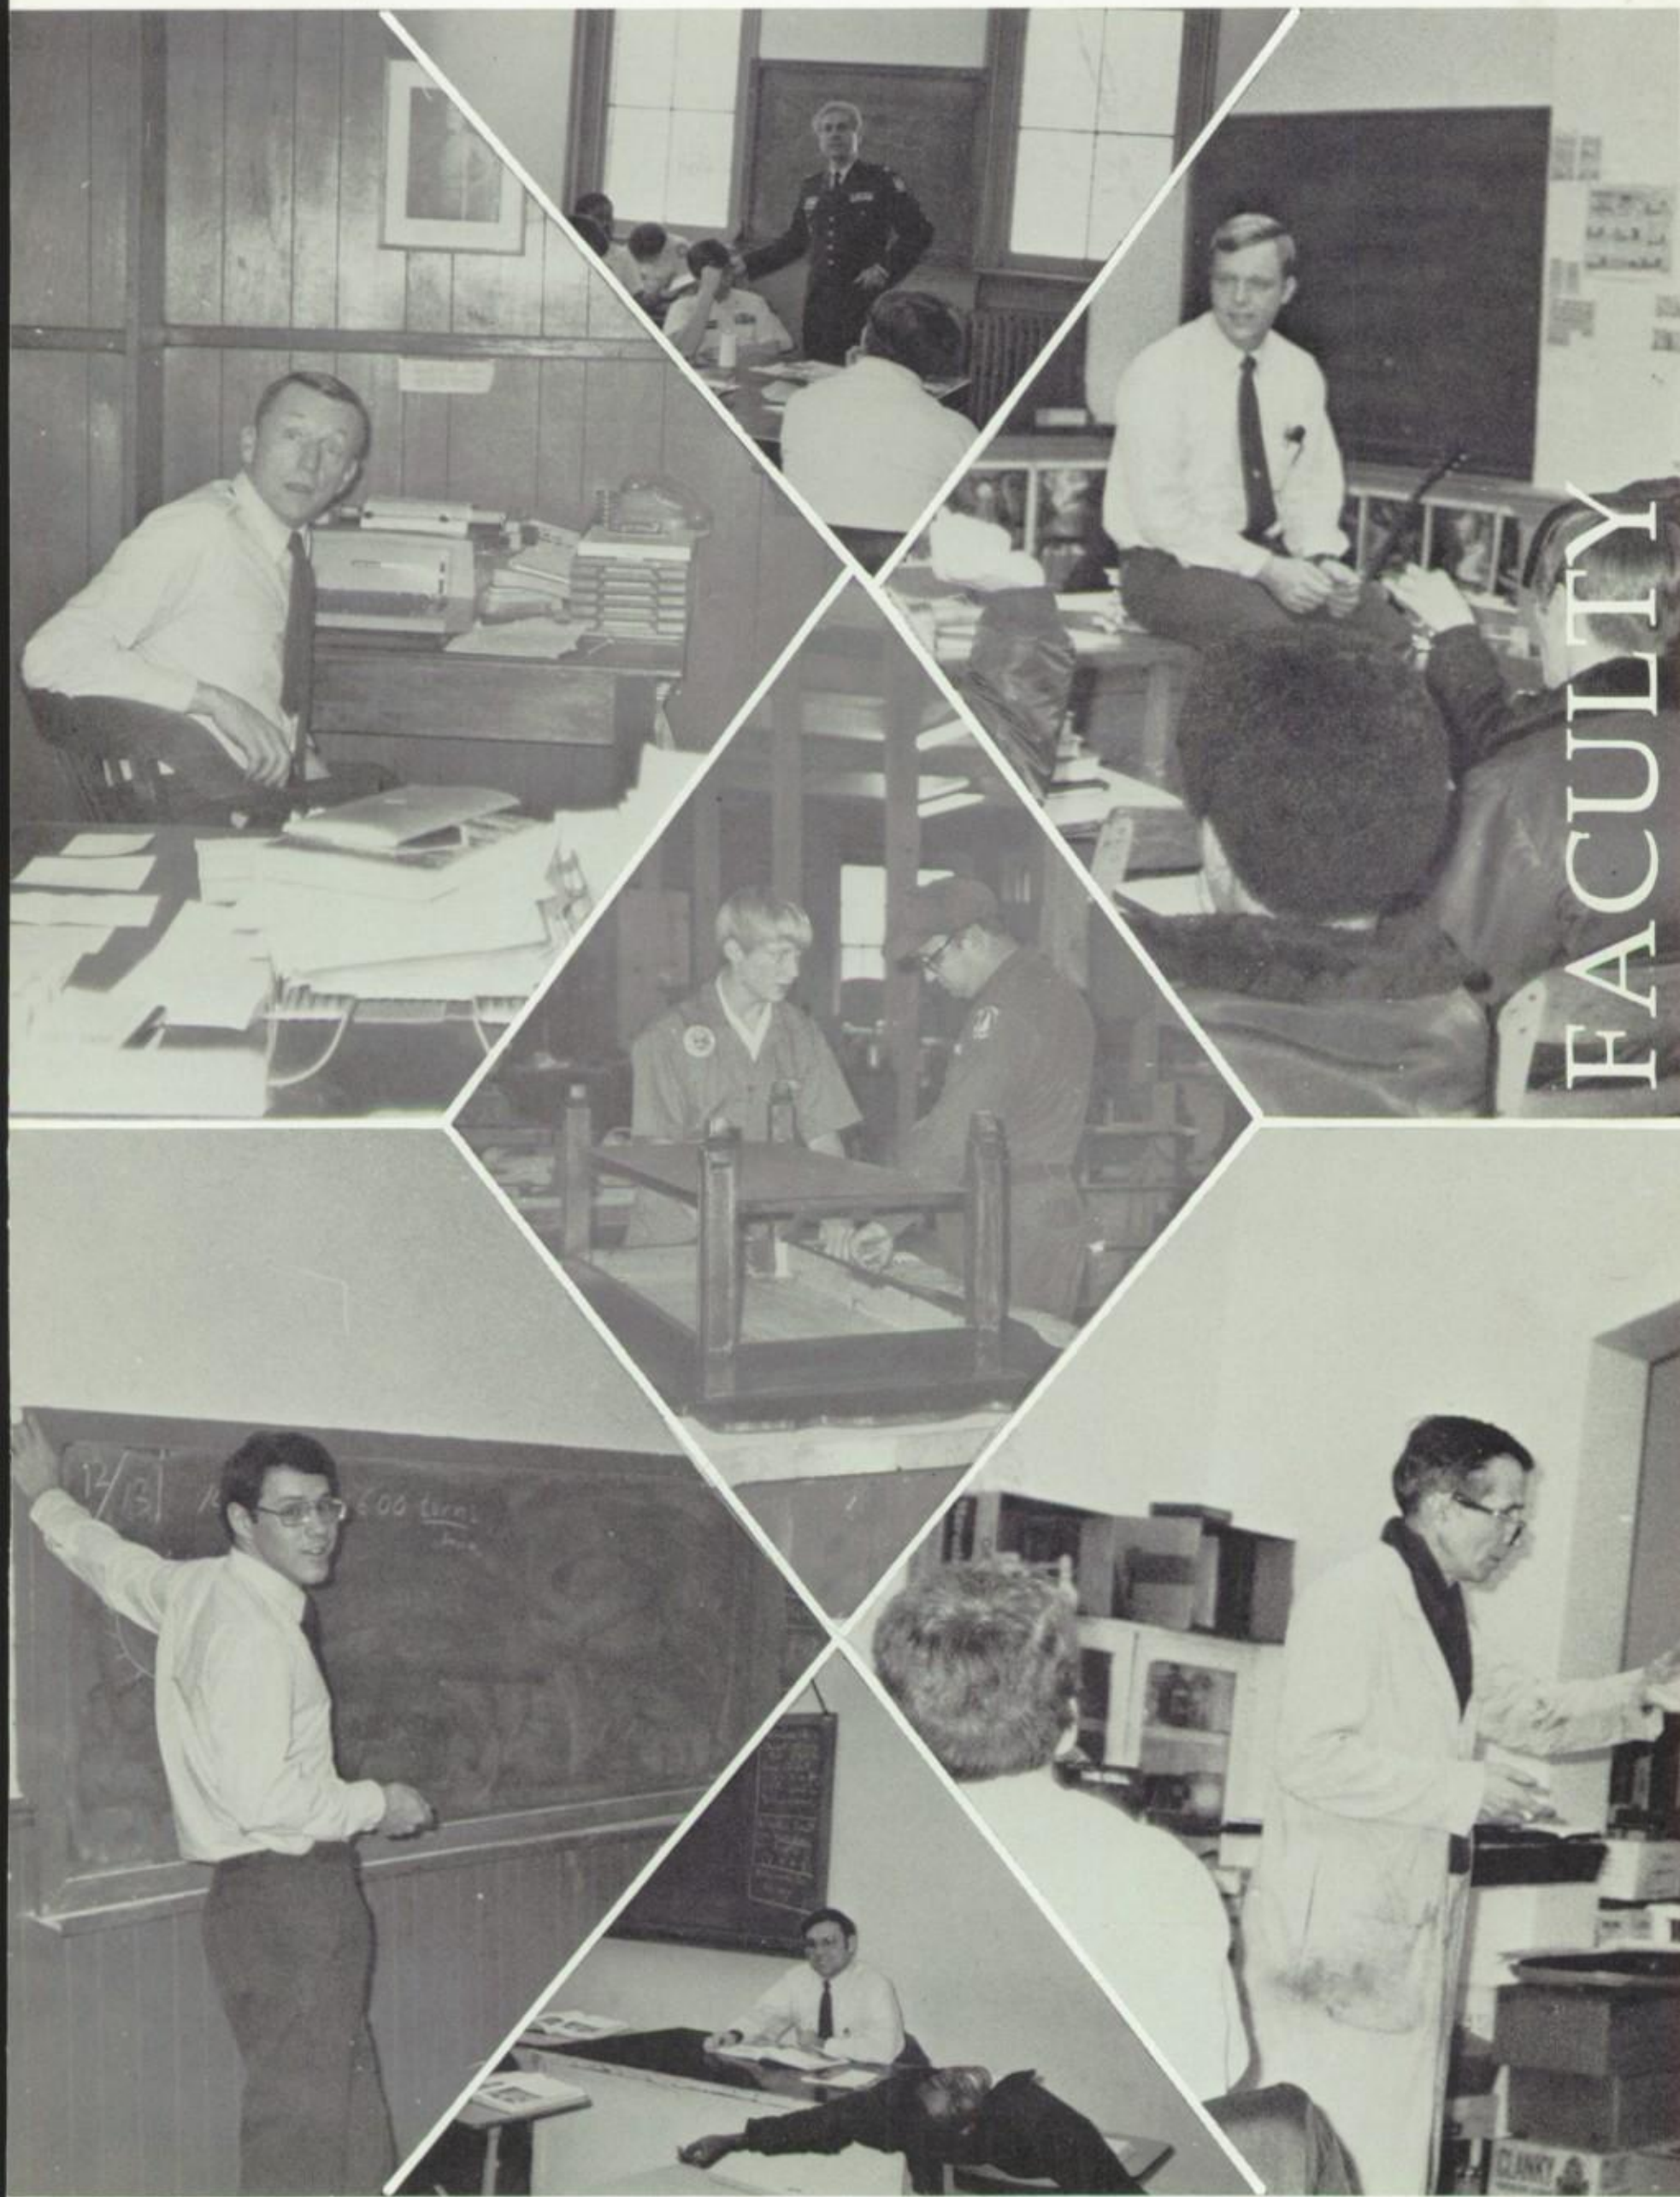

The senior Class of 1978 would like to thank this teacher and friend for all he has done for us.

Best wishes, "Captain Grammar."

CLASSES

Eleven was the number that came up for the class of 1978. They entered school singly and in pairs from 1970 to 1977.

Greeting all other members was Sam Arnold, who arrived on the hill in 1970. During his stay he participated in football, wrestling and cross country. He also was head Proctor of the Junior School in his senior year.

Two more joined with Sam in 1974, Richard Hanna coming north from the land of sun and sand and John Blalock from Virginia. Rich, known for his creative mind, served on the yearbook staff for two years, holding down the editorship his senior year. Also, he was on the football team, drill team and a member of the K.V.G. John was a member of the color guard; however, his most noted contribution was as driver of the trash truck.

Four was the number in 1975 as Mike Southall, Martin Aborlleile, Glen Forte and Dave Lind came up the winding road to the top of the hill. Hailing from Falls Church, Va., Mike soon became known for his dishpan hands. He made other notable contributions as a member of the football team, K.V.G. and yearbook staff. In his senior year he served as commander of the drill team. Coming from the Bronx, Martin was overcome by "youse guys" from the south. However, he joined right in as a member of the football, wrestling, basketball and drill teams. He also learned about fighting forest fires in the K.V.G. but Lord only knows why because there are no trees in the Bronx. Glen, from Florida, and Dave from New Jersey joined other members of their class on the football team and drill team. Glen also marched with the color guard while Dave raked fire lines with the K.V.G.

Don came in 1976, arriving from "almost heaven" West Virginia. From Maryland, came a yankee known as Tim with a lot of "stuff" about a "Snow Bunny". While on the hill, Don participated on the football team, basketball team, the youth group and sang with the choir. Tim played football and wrestled. His senior year he was the Squadron Commander.

1977 saw the last two members join our class. Derrick from "Watergate City" and Joe from south of the border. Joe, knowing he may never see snow again, joined the Ski club. He also was on the wrestling, cross country, and drill teams. With rake and shovel in hand and water can on his back, he learned about fires in the K.V.G. Derrick, meanwhile, was singing in the choir and marching with the drill team.

And so, the eleven. 1978 finds us looking back with many memories and looking forward with anticipation, hoping for all good numbers for us and for those we leave behind on the hill.

SPORTS

Football

We made a come-back this year with a four win four loss record. We played Western Albemarle in "mud bowl" which turned out to be a victory for us; not as the score board showed but as our pride showed, playing against such great odds and holding out. All in all, we had a good season. Coach Barber and the returning players look forward to an even better season next year.

Chuck Hummill checks the runner's pulse.

Basketball

This year's record was not the best compared to the past, but with the support of four new players and a new coach the team kept a winning spirit. Under coach Thomas Gillett they never quit. Playing with pride and determination, they closed out the season with two wins.

Wrestling

We had a winning season this year although we were five matches short due to the snow and the flu. The wrestlers still worked hard to go to the state tournaments, where they plan on doing well.

Starting the second period, Chuck Hummill has the advantage.

Rappelling Club

Seeing people dropping from fire escapes around school this year was not unusual. With the assistance and direction of Capt. Crosby, the Rappelling club was formed. This group had great fun learning the art of rappelling with the highlight being a trip to Hump Back rock.

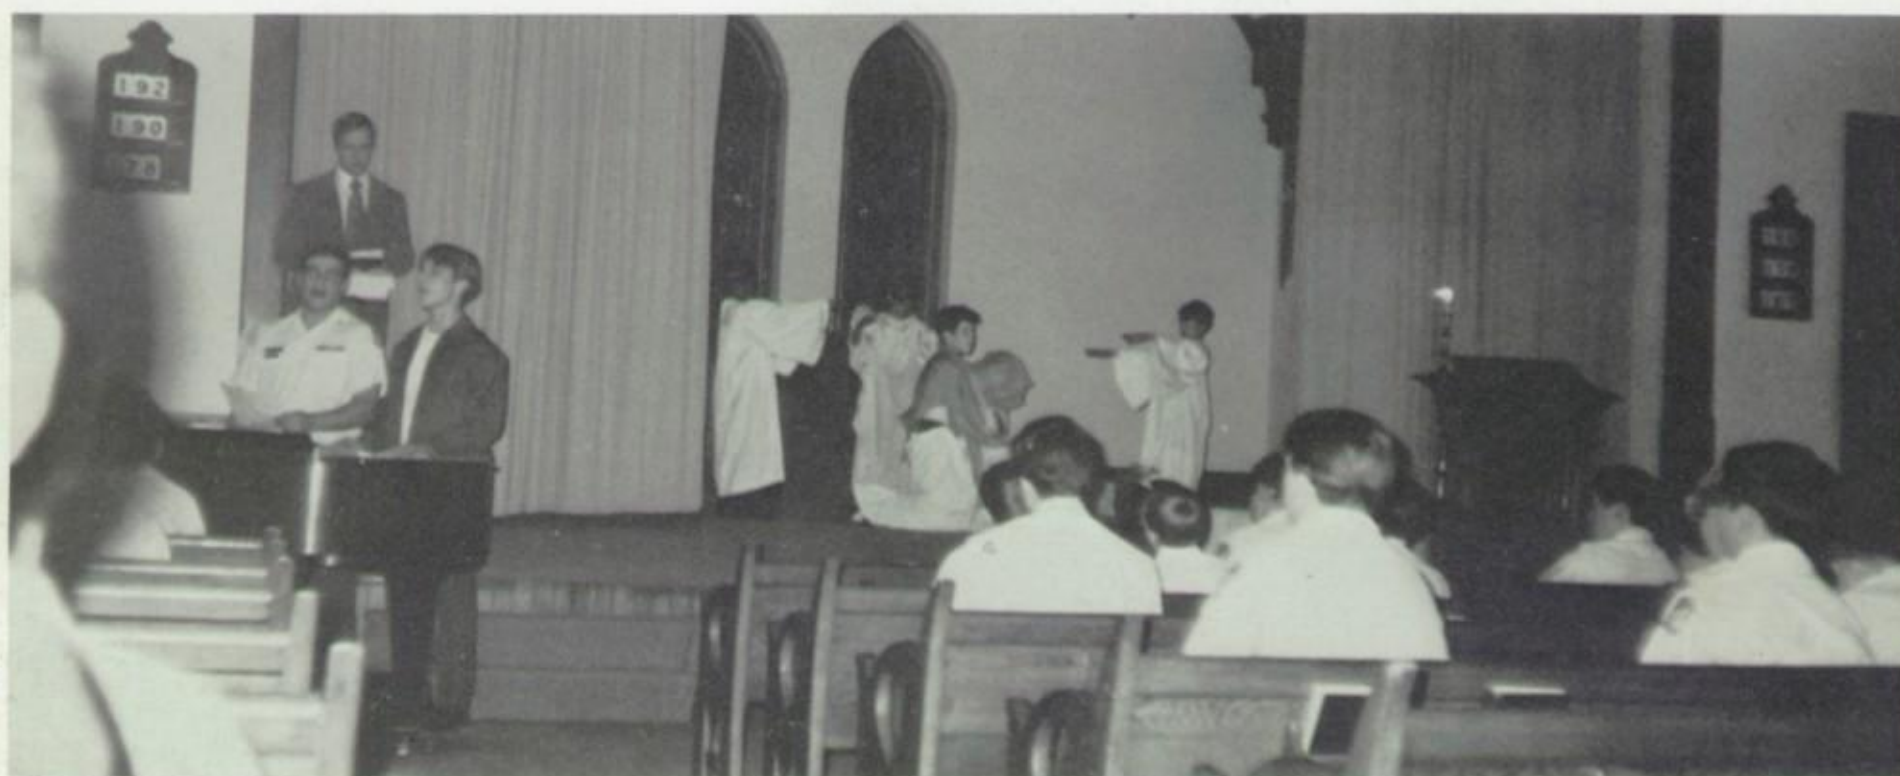

Grandparent Group

Under the direction of Mrs. Crosby, the Grandparent group was formed. Members of the group adopted senior citizens at the University Towers. They spent time on the weekends with their adopted grandparent playing checkers, cards, reading to them, and just keeping company with them.

100 Years

Samuel Miller died in 1869 leaving a bequest in his will of approximately $1 million for the establishment of a boarding school in Albemarle County.

The School was chartered by the Virginia General Assembly on February 24, 1874 as a non-profit charitable corporation. Miller School enters its second century of service to young men, free of debt, with $2.7 million in real property and an investment portfolio of $2.7 million — all because of the original thrust given by Samuel Miller.

The School has seen many changes in its first century. It began as a co-educational institution and after the girls program was dropped, it took on a military type program which began as a non-affiliation. Then came the National Defense Cadet Corps followed by the J.R.O.T.C — all affiliated with the U.S. Army, Department of Defense. Currently, the Cadet Corps is organized as a Civil Air Patrol Squadron.

Through the many changes, the school has worn everything from the old World War I riding breeches with boots to the U.S. Army Uniforms and now the uniform of the U.S. Air Force with CAP insignia.

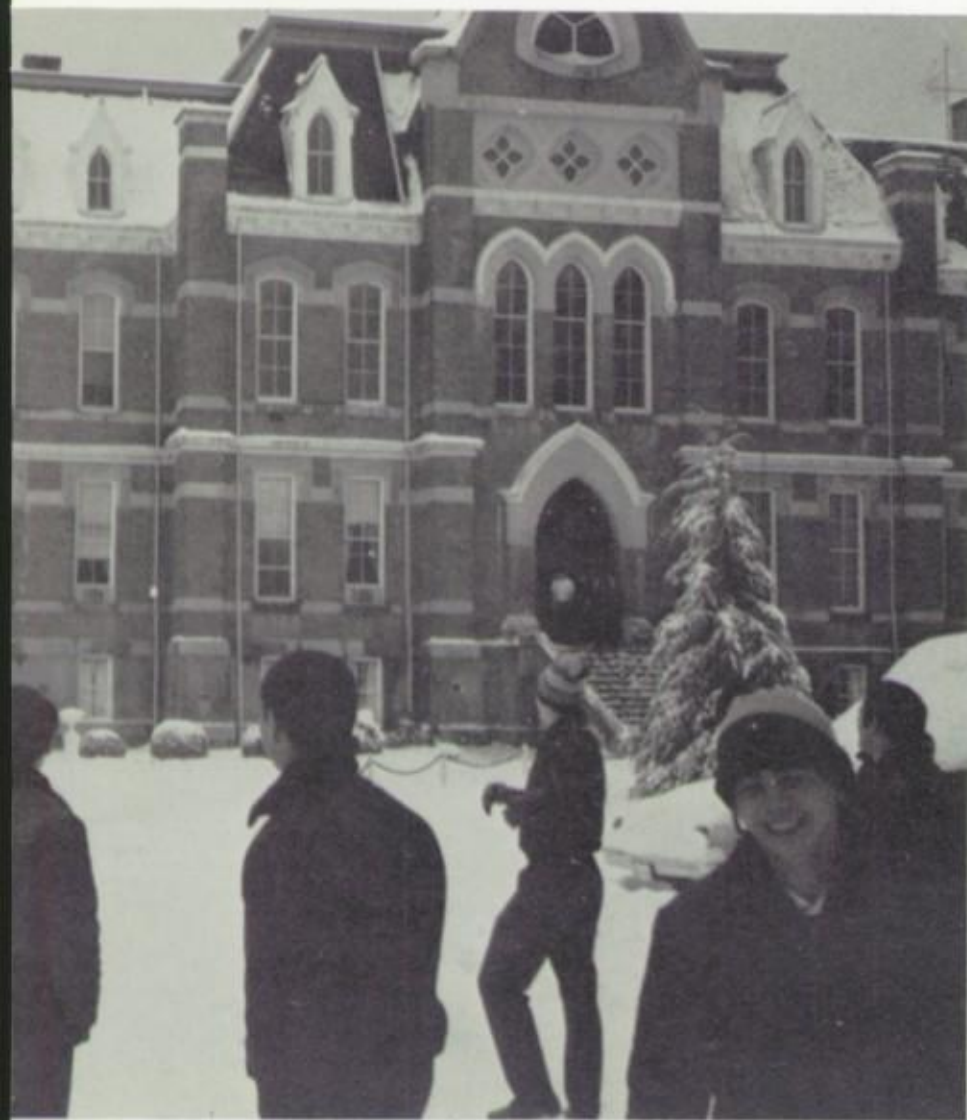

Mr. Henry J. Browne, the school's consulting architect has described Miller School as "an institution which has refused to copy; which has refused to compromise; which has refused to destroy; which has refused to compete for that which is transient and superficial."

Today, Miller School stands as a staunch example of the time-tested traditional approach to education.

Second semester students: Allie Melson, Jr., James Haggerty, Dan Sager.

Closing

School life at Miller is an experience not many forget. Within our daily routine we develop traits which are very essential to our future welfare. Many of us never really appreciate it until we leave; it's then that we realize how much we've gained. Miller has become a part of our lives that we will treasure and never forget.
